The Senior IMPROV team Exit 170 competes on stage for the "Canadian IMPROV games".

Lesley-Ann Charles talk about the hags of the apocalypse!

Chet Bader tries to turn Francis Melling's frown upside down.

The Senior Theatre Class stands on stage waiting for the instructions for the next warm up game.

Francis Melling looks rather... "interested" in the old lady played by Betsie Kopola-Howshoski

Mr. Polishak receives a small token of gratitude for all his hard work towards the plays.

Kayla Donnelly sits here on her blind date with "nerdy" Kristof Melling

"Let's run away to Vegas and get hitched" says Julian Quinn to Meagan

McAllister.

While these two young ladies chat away, Faydra Bobroske takes a short nap out of boredom.

Lights, Camera, Action! Each year our students put a great amount of time, energy, and enthusiasm into creating performances on stage. This year's one act plays were directed by Mr. Polishak while Brodi Scalise, a graduating student, directed "Check Please".

Our Exit 170 IMPROV team (Junior and Senior teams) put on a variety of shows in the school at lunch times as well as participated in the "Canadian IMPROV games."

Mr .Polishak does a fantastic job creating a fun, exciting and creative environment in his Theatre and Junior drama classes, allowing the students to step out and become more confident with themselves and comfortable with their surroundings.

Julian Quinn stands out looking rather frustrated in a burlap sack.

The actors and actresses of the one act play festival stand patiently waiting for their adjudications.
